Presentation Notes

- All the sites I'm showing are SAFE – just remember that sometimes sites can change
- All of the downloadable content is Free – no digital rights management blocks
- Most of the sites don't require a log in
- There are lots of links – this presentation will be available for download
- A note on downloading – some sites say streaming only. If it can be streamed, it can be downloaded. I won't be discussing that today.

Magazines

Unfortunately, I have never found any good free magazine download sites. Most of them are some kind of free sample scam.

Use your library card and download a large assortment of magazines.

I'm not going to spend a lot of time talking about free music and other downloads. There are tons of sites that can be found by a web search (just add "royalty free") to your search terms. I get most of mine from YouTube. I'll add more later when I show you the Best Download Site Ever.

Free Images

Image Sites

Like sound sites, there are many places to download free images. Make sure sites you go to include licensing data. On the next slide are a few sites I check when looking for images for my personal web site or some newsletters I edit. I like them because:

- They are all open source licenses (mostly creative commons)
- They have easy to use search functions
- The images are mostly pretty good

Clip Art Downloads:

1. Absolutely Free Clip Art
2. All Free Original Clip Art
